Proposed Change to the Constitution

Several months ago, the General Membership voted to modify the dates shown in our ZCCC Constitution for collecting Active Member Points to read...

Active Member Award: A ZCCC member is eligible for an active member award if they accumulate 15 or more points between September 1st of any year and August 31st of the following year.

But then we realized point collection for the Most Active Member Award had the old criteria as follows...

Current Most Active Member Award states: Most active award is given to the ZCCC member who accumulates the most points in a fiscal year. In case of a tie, multiple active member awards will be presented.

So, it is being proposed that the ZCCC Constitution be changed from “fiscal year” to:

Proposed Most Active Member Award would state: Most active award is given to the ZCCC member who accumulates the most points between September 1st of any year and August 31st of the following year. In case of a tie, multiple active member awards will be presented.

This refers to the section of the ZCCC Constitution under STANDING RULES, Section 2 – Awards, page 16.

The General Membership will get to vote on this proposed Constitutional change at the November General Meeting on Wednesday, November 2, 2022.

From the Editor

LETTER FROM YOUR EDITOR

This month's letter is "Z" for Zeeing you on Zoom

I cannot believe I am writing about Zoom meetings again and it is already Fall, my favorite time of year. The leaves are changing, the days are shorter and the nights are cooler. It is definitely the prettiest time of year in Colorado.

First off, please make sure you read our article in Shift Colorado featured on Page 5 of the Odometer.

I know we will all have an enjoyable time at the Annual Meeting and Banquet on October 1st., and the upcoming Drive with Rhynes on the 2nd. and the Paint Mines drive and visit on the 8th with the Byrnes.

We are once again going to be zeeing each other on Zoom beginning in November until April. It will still be great to see all of your smiling faces on camera. Thanks to Robert and Mariann we will still have a couple of in person events to look forward to next year. Don't forget our annual holiday party as well! Please come up with some ideas to get together virtually or in person for the next few months.

Until then, Happy reading—Cheryle

MEET YOUR MEMBER

JAMES AND SUE PASONO

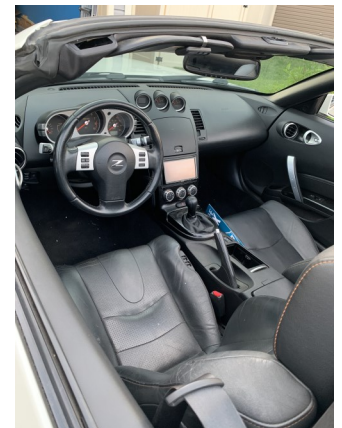

Hello fellow car nuts,

I am one of the newest members to our club, James Pasono. I joined the Z car club in June of 2022, to gather with other Z car lovers. My wife Sue and I got started with big motorcycles; that got too dangerous, then had 2 generations of Miatas, and a beautiful 1970 Ford Maverick. My desire to get back to sports cars led me to my current adrenaline producer, our 2008 350Z Roadster.

Sue is a very accomplished RN, going on her 42nd year of pediatric nursing at our favorite hospital, Childrens Hospital Colorado. She is a wonderful mom to our 6 children and 7 grandchildren, that are mostly all still here in Denver. Her tolerance of my car swapping every 3-4 years is only 1 of her many wonderful qualities. We have been married for 18 memorable years, and I might possibly/maybe/might be able to talk her into a new Z if and when one of those jokers ever show up in Denver.

I have been an airplane guy since my teens growing up in upstate NY. Got hooked on single engine airplanes right after a guy took me up in a 1961 Piper Colt. I'm winding down to retirement but still working 2 days per week on the flight line at Denver International. Our son is a pilot for United Airlines, and our son-in-law is a pilot for Alaska Airlines. We love to fly and will do more in the future.

I try to get to as many events as possible, but this work thing keeps getting in the way. We will definitely be at the club banquet in October and hope to see you and make some more friends. Blue Skies, James & Sue

2022 Speedefx Car Show benefiting HopeKids! RECAP

September 3, 2022

Host: Mike and Wendy Rhyne

Saturday September 4th we hosted the SpeedEFX Car Show benefiting HopeKids. We had 12 members attend and 3 members' Z cars in the show. The cars in the show included exotics, classics, muscle cars, imports, and highly modified and customized cars. Speedefx held a raffle where all proceeds went to HopeKids. The highlight being that we won a PPF package, now we just need to get another Z to put it on.

The car show benefited HopeKids who provide ongoing events and activities for families who have a child with a life-threatening medical condition, such as cancer.

NMCO-Z CAR RUN RECAP BY JASON SPEGAL

September 16-18, 2022

The first get together with the Albuquerque Z Car Club was a great success. There were 8 cars in total with 12 people on the run. Two from Colorado, eight from New Mexico, and two from California. The weather was perfect, the drive was amazing, and there were a lot of interesting people to meet. Art Singer deserves all the credit for the planning and making it a great success. We covered a lot of ground, but the regular breaks made it a breeze. We met up with everyone at Art Cartopia on Friday afternoon, which was packed with very unique and interesting art cars. Rick and Debbie Mraz also dropped by to meet everyone and check the place out. Afterwards Art setup a photo shoot in front of the building. We departed to get checked into the hotel and had an enjoyable dinner at Club 14 in Trinidad. Saturday was a full day of driving with a wide variety of scenery and unique destinations. Traffic was light, the weather perfect, and the drive amazing. We invaded a small town to perform the first photo shoot, a slow speed drive by. We stopped for lunch in Pagosa Springs while Mike, Christian, and Mario went to check out a local car show. We then proceeded south to NM where Art setup a second photo shoot, after which we started heading east again. Outside of a couple stretches the roads were enjoyably twisty across the four mountain passes and countryside. We finally arrived at Rino's where the exhaustion hit, had a good night's sleep, and said our goodbyes in the morning as everyone headed out after breakfast. The longest drive winner is Kenny Ueda who drove more than 15 hours to get to the event from California.

We've agreed to have this event next year as well with the same route for those who didn't get the opportunity to experience it this year. This will likely become an annual event between the clubs with the drive being changed up every year or two. Thanks to everyone who came out this year. I hope more of the club gets to enjoy this next year.

For those who may be interested, the group broke up into three different speed groups (spirited, normal, and cruising), so there was something for everyone. At the stopping points everyone waited for the entire group to catch up before taking off again, and the overall pace wasn't rushed making it very enjoyable. Please check out Kenny's videos (<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UC9WtWGiS-T7eD-xsX82ZN-g/videos>) of some of the drive. For more photos please go to <https://www.facebook.com/>

1970 Datsun 240Z Monte-Carlo Rallye Car Submitted by Andy Mortenson

Hemmings Motor News, 9/18/2022

As iconic as the Nissan Z is, remarkably little is known in English-speaking countries about its motorsports history. In the US, the American-spec Datsun 240Z is best remembered, and deservedly so, for its SCCA victories. But while names like Peter Brock, John Morton, and Bob Sharp were conquering American road racing, the Nissan mothership in Japan was in the midst of an all-out assault on international rallying.

It's not surprising that Nissan's rally undertakings are unknown to most Americans. WRC drivers are household names in Europe, but the sport barely registers a blip on our radars. One glance at Nissan's Zama Heritage Collection, though, and it's quickly revealed how highly the company regards its rallying achievements. There are three different black-on-red Z-cars, winners of the 1971 and 1973 Safari Rally, and a third-place finisher of the 1972 Rallye Monte-Carlo.

Nissan entered its Works rally cars in FIA competition as the Datsun 240Z, but they had little in common with the HLS30 240Z sold at your local Datsun dealer circa October 1969. Beneath the hood lurked a version of Nissan's SOHC 2.4-liter inline-6, but the car's bones were more closely related to the Z432-R than the 240Z.

That means they were initially assembled with Z432-R parts that are labelled "PZR" (P for Prince Motor Co., Z for Fairlady Z, R for race) in the Japanese S30 parts manual, like an FRP hood, plexiglass windows, and Ikeda Bussan racing seats. According to Tom Knudsen, owner of the 1971 Rallye Monte-Carlo's 10th place finisher, and noted Nissan Works historian and enthusiast Alan Thomas, Nissan appears to have built the rally cars in batches, each consisting of several cars tailored to the specific race they'd be campaigned in.

Ben Hsu at Japanese Nostalgic Car recently had the unique experience of getting to view one of Datsun's 240Z factory rally cars in its original, unrestored state prior to its restoration, providing some detailed insights into just how Datsun prepared the cars.

Nissan has never published records of how many Works rally Zs it built, but Thomas and Knudsen believe that around 40 were made for international rallying, with about half being lightweight examples. Only eight of the rally cars, lightweight or not, are known to have survived. Nissan holds three, as mentioned above, and among the five under private ownership, two have been converted to track use in the intervening decades and stripped of their Works rally-specific parts. So for all intents and purposes, there are only three "complete" Works rally Zs in private hands.

As such, it's an incredibly rare opportunity to get up close and personal with one of these machines. He recently had the chance to pore over Knudsen's Monte Carlo car and see many of its factory racing parts. The car may not look like much right now, but soon it will undergo a full rotisserie restoration. Therefore, Knudsen's walkaround was his best opening to spend some one-on-one time with, in an unrestored state, what Nissan Works engineers conceived of in Oppama over a half-century ago.

1973 Datsun 240Z Petaluma, California

I bought this car brand-new from Daland Datsun in Millbrae, California, in August 1973—my first car. The Z now has 385,000 miles on it and still has the original motor, which has always run well.

It was my daily driver from 1973 to 1994 and was then driven by my son through high school and college, which explains how it ended up with four different-colored quarter panels and fenders.

In 2014, I had the body restored at Petaluma Autoworks. We didn't touch the engine, but the work required a lot of rust removal from the floors, doglegs, and body panels. Then I had it repainted in its original metallic brown.

My brother-in-law, who has his own Z as well as an excellent inventory of early Z parts, helped me complete the restoration in 2015. This included re-chroming the bumpers, reupholstering the seats, refurbishing the interior, hand-painting the grille and horns, and replacing many exterior bits. Upgrades include 15-inch Panasport wheels and Tokico blue shocks, 1972 Z carburetors and a 6-into-2 header, and a BRE front air dam.

I have such great history with this 240Z. In 1975, my college roommate and I drove it on a long Colorado ski trip; all we needed was a good BarreCrafters ski rack designed for the Z. A year later, I took it up through Oregon and Washington to British Columbia, then down through Montana, Jackson Hole in Wyoming, and Reno, Nevada. I've always been amazed at how easy it is to pack a 240Z for an extended camping trip. After a couple of days, everything has its place.

These days, I baby it. It is always garaged, with a car cover, and I only drive it in ideal conditions, usually a few times a month out to the coast or to wine country. It runs and drives better than it did new.

Incidentally, my daily driver is a '94 300ZX I bought new, which now has 350,000 miles on it, so I have over 700,000 miles on my Nissan/Datsun cars. Good cars are meant to be driven and enjoyed.

Now cosmetically restored, Pete Toft's Z represents 50 years of happy ownership.
